St. Anthony Variations	Brahms
Symphony No. 60 "Il Distratto"	Haydn
Piano Concerto No. 1	Brahms
Soloist: Daniel Lehardt

Homage to Haydn!

Like most composers of the Romantic period, the great Johannes Brahms was aware of his debt to the work of his predecessors, including Josef Haydn. In this concert, HCO explore the connection between the two.

The concert opens with the Variations on the St Anthony Chorale by Brahms, which is based on a tune which Brahms believed was by Josef Haydn. Researchers have since concluded that Haydn was most likely not the composer of the tune and its origin remains a musical mystery!

Haydn himself created his Symphony No. 60 from music he wrote for a play entitled "The Distracted". It has six short movements and includes a moment where the violins are supposed to have been "distracted"! Let's hope MD Robin Browning can keep us in order!

The second half of the concert demonstrates Brahms' development into full-blown Romanticism with his huge Piano Concerto No. 1. The soloist will be young Hungarian pianist Daniel Lehardt. Still only 27, Daniel has played recitals worldwide and is definitely a name to watch!
