Cello Concerto Elgar

Soloist: Joseph Spooner

Symphony No. 1 in C minor Brahms

The most famous piece for cello and orchestra has to be the Concerto by Edward Elgar. Written in the aftermath of the first world war, it encapsulates a sense of the tragedy of war. We are delighted to welcome Joseph Spooner as soloist for the concerto.

The concert is completed by two more very famous works – music from the opera ‘The Bartered Bride’ by Smetana and Symphony No. 1 by Brahms. Smetana’s comic opera is about village life and makes extensive use of lively Czech folk music. Brahms was famously reluctant to commit himself to writing a symphony as he felt himself very much in the shadow of Beethoven but the result was definitely worth the wait!
